WELHM BOYS' NEWSLETTER

16 September 1985

EDITORIAL

News comes in various cycles as rain. Honour and embarrassment, there was some, of both at the start of yet another term at welhams. And then everyone knew that they were back at the same old school, back to their normal routine, their friends, and a term full of its pleasures & hazards, enjoyment and hardwork, joy and sorrow. Summing up, not much different from any other term. Occasional showers of rainfall, disrupted the normal routine, however with the passage of time the old machinery of the school came alive.

The past month left behind a trail of activities and while retiring to our office and files, we had a tough time. You have in front of you the first issue of the newsletter of this term. We have opened our files and await your valuable response. The boys have suggested, complained and recommended various points to improve the newsletter. These include a suggestion box and a choice of articles.

The school machinery continues to launch and indulge in its ambitious tree planting campaign, installation of solar heaters, absorption of advanced computer systems and draws the final clauses for the construction of a sophisticated geography laboratory, complete with a satellite tracking radar system and other high precision instruments.

The Oliphant, recently, in the exercising of its powers and functions which are vast, has been accused of its publication of facts which are distorted and have been misleading. It was surprising to learn that the 'Oliphant' is being deployed as a weapon to malign and throw light on the inadequacy of the school. This is certainly not our intention. As responsible editors of the school magazine and as loyal members of school fraternity we have worked hard to suggest improvements and point out the lacunas, wherever we felt they existed. Our pronouncements are and will always be intended for the good of the school and welfare of the school community. We stand convinced and stand by our pronouncements and which are read, reread confirmed and reconfirmed.

Ours are not idle pronouncements. We are increasing our efforts and exploring new efforts. You will hear more from us and we would like to hear more from you

We are angry. We are embarrassed. We are determined.....

-Gaurav Kampani

WELHAM OLD BOYS NEWS :

Alif Shirali, ICSE Class of 1983, has got admission to Harvard-Radcliffe College at Cambridge Massachusetts, as an undergraduate freshman. He is wholeheartedly congratulated ! Incidentally, only three other people from India got the admission to the Harvard Class of '89.

NOTES FROM ALL OVER

BLACK HOLE IN MILKY WAY : A satellite experiment aboard the next US space shuttle flight will examine what may be a black hole lurking in the centre of the milky way galaxy, devouring stars, cosmic dust and gas at a rapid rate. The centre of the galaxy is tightly packed with stars and seems associated with violent action. According to recreatists it may be a very large blackhole and may be the source of intense radiation emanating from the galactic centre.

THATCHER TURNS POETESS : British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has turned her hand to poetry, composing some lines for a book of verse in aid of African Famine Victims. The 'Save the Children' organisation hopes to raise 200,80,000 pounds through sales of this book.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY: Mr. Konstantin Aid, tired of having his name connected with the immune system breakdown known as "AIDS", has threatened to sue newspapers and broadcasting stations in Sweden everytime they use the acronym Mr. AID in a letter to the Swedish Government, has demanded that a different name be adopted by the media for the usually fatal disease.

ARGENTINA REAFFIRMS CLAIMS OVER FALKLANDS : Argentina has said it would never abandon its claim to the disputed Falkland Islands and accused Britain of refusing to resume serious talks on the future of the South Atlantic Archipelago. The foreign ministry declared to celebrate Argentina's claim of Falklands, and that Britain's fortification of the islands was generating towards world tensions.

MORE F-16s FOR PAKISTAN : United States has agreed to supply Pakistan with more F-16 fighter aircraft & other sophisticated weapons for its armed forces. Pakistan has already received forty F-16s but it will get an additional undisclosed number of this aircraft, rated as one of the most sophisticated aircraft in the world, according to sources close to the Pentagon.

COCA COLA Vs PEPSI COLA IN SPACE : American astronauts aboard shuttles would be sipping Coca Cola or Pepsi Cola during their space odyssey. A

New type of "Star Wars" has generated by United States refreshment companies of being able to attain the privilege of being the first to sell their products in space. Coca Cola and Pepsi Cola will extend their age old rivalry into space.

Coca Cola, however accuses the NASA of violating an agreement signed with it, granting the exclusive right of being the first space refreshment tinned in steel containers. However the National Aeronautics Space Administration of U.S. has denied the statement.

DRACULA LAID TO GENETIC DISORDER : It is claimed that the legend of vampires, were wolves of Count Dracula, may have been based on real victims of a rare gory of genetic disorders. The diseases known as Phyras are associated with a malfunctioning in the bio-chemical production of heme, the red pigmentation in blood. Victims of the diseases are extremely sensitive to light & accumulate chemicals called Porphyrins that can transform oxygen into toxic into tonic substances that destroys skin tissue. According to various scientists the result may be devastating.

US CAN SEE THROUGH SOVIET NUCLEAR INTENTIONS : The United States has now let up a world wide monitoring system that is capable of picking up all Soviet underground nuclear test explosions even under 10 Kilotone. One reason why the United States rejected the Soviet proposal for a moratorium on all tests until January, is that the U.S. wants to continue testing to develop new war head for the midget man intercontinental ballistic missiles & possible systems for the star wars research programme. The U.S. capability for monitoring Soviet tests has been vastly enhanced by a sophisticated new seismic array it set up in Norway, to enhance the existing system. Two other more sophisticated systems and in a more advanced experimental stage. A similar system of five modern seismic monitors exists in the U.S. and Canada providing the U.S. instant data from all over the world.

ANOTHER NEW COUNTRY ON WORLD UP
Another independent state will soon appear on the political map of the world with the legislative council of Aruba a small island in the lesser Antilles of the Venezuelan waste, deciding to leave the federation of Netherland Antilles and follow its own independent road

WATERLOO RE-ENACTED : The 1815 battle of Waetrloo, French emperor Napoleon's decisive defeat at the hands of the Britains Duke of Wellington, was faught all over again much to the delight of French & British.

Some six hundred soldiers, all in histrionic dress & equipped with bayonets & cannon, re-enacted Napoleon's final stand in the same fields just south of Brussels where 170 years ago more than 10,000 men from all over Europe faught the bloody battle. The festivities for the 270th anniversary of the battle further included several military parades, and exhibition and market of old weapons.

THE THIRD SECRET : Claims in court by Mehmet Ali Agca, a turn serving a life sentence and seriously injuring Pope John Paul, has said his attack was linked to the third secret of the Madonna of Fatima and challenged the Vatican to disclose it. The secret of Fatima, rumoured to be an apocalyptic message of prophesying world destruction and which has been kept under wraps by the Vatican since 1917, when it is said to have been revealed in a vision at the Portugese village of Fatima. Pope John XXIII was the first Pope to read the secret. He died without disclosing it. An Italian journalist who specialises in Vatican affairs claims Pope Pius XII fainted after reading it.

Now Agca's claims have reawakened interest in the sixty eight year old mystery. reports Reuter.

DENIAL LETTER PRICED £10,000 : A letter from singer Paul Mc Cartney to a magazine denying that the Beatles would ever be reunited is to be sold at an auction. The hand written letter, priced at 10,000 to 12,000 pounds was sent to the music weekly melody makers in August.

Paul Mc Cartney writes "In order to put out its misery the limping dog of a news story which has been dragging itself across our pages for the past year, my answer to the question, will the Beatles ever get together again" is no, no." It is signed by Mc Cartney above a drawing of a toothy grin.

JAPAN EXPLODED ATOMIC BOMB AFTER HIROSHIMA BLAST : According to U.S. Government investigations and top secret documents, it has been established that Japan conducted a nuclear bomb test of its own, just four days after Hiroshima was destroyed. The A-bomb test was conducted by a group of scientists lead by Dr. Yoshio Mishina, in the sea of Japan, just before the end of the World War II.

ANSWERS TO THE BRAIN BUSTERS

Hijackproof Airliner - It is impossible to design such an aircraft in which bullets can't be fired due to the high speed of the plane. As according to Newton's first law of motion, every object on earth possesses inertia. The bullets in the revolver would already be moving at the speed of the plane; the speed of the bullet would be additional if it were to be fired.

The explanation given was baseless.

The most inexpensive way to travel- As the whole atmosphere of the earth revolves along with it, it is not possible to stay in a hot air balloon in order to travel Westward.

opened wide enough yet when a large foot stepped out. It had an old sandal on, the type kings of ancient India used to wear. Then as suddenly light flashes, the door opened and standing half way in we could see a tall, well built man staring at us with inquisitive yet daring eyes. We could not return his stare and looked away. After some time I broke the spell of silence and advanced forward to welcome him.

"I am your new P.A. appointed by C638B' and you may call me Har Rai. Welcome back to the great under world". He looked at me with a look of enquiry & wonder whether I could be trusted. 'Oh! what a dumb fool you are !' I thought "He can non understand English". I cursed myself and explained everything to him in Hindi. I remembered seing him when I was a child. He and my father were great friends. And both were very strong. He used to wear a Nepali cap, a red or blue kurta and a white dhoti. He used to look ferocious even with these simple clothes. But even though he was feared everywhere; in the underworld as the police force, he was ultimately caught red handed and given twenty years imprisonment. Now he had come out and our gang had decided to keep him as he was as strong as a bull. Seeing that we decided to call him 'Bull' and he quite liked being called that.

We Presented ourselves in front of the boss. The Boss made an agreement with the Bull saying that he would work for us and in return he would get money, house, car and other allowances. He quite liked it but did not understand what a car was. We had to show it to him but still he did not quite get it. Any way, he was put in my hands and I had to explain the work and the new techniques of safe cracking I took him to his new home. He thought it was a king's place and got the impression that he was going to live in the servant quarters. But what a surprise, to his joy and excitement, he got when I told him that the 'place' was for him. He went in quietly and glanced around and gave a sigh of dissappointment. 'What is all this nonsense !' he seemed to say. I asked him the reason. He pointed at the sofa, the glass table, the colour T.V., the V.C R., the telephone and some decorative pieces and looked at me with enquiry. He waited for me to explain all that. I was surprised but did'nt show it in case he felt hurt. 'But then' I reasoned out' a person obviously won't know everything after staying in the prison for twenty years. He will have to adjust quite a lot. I explained him every thing with a demonstration. He on his part, just tried to understand patiently.

Next day I took him around the town showing him all the banks worth our interest.

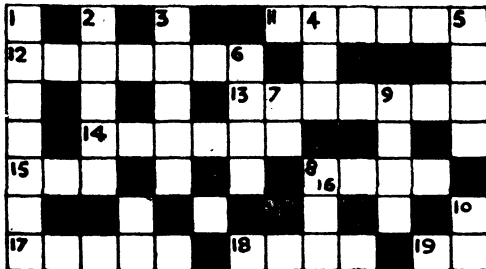

I explained to him the working of a bank and the placing of the vault and the necessary details. After that we went to a fast shoppe to have food. As we neared the posh area of expensive shops he exclaimed "Dhaba kithe hai. Har Rai ? Manu te ik bhi ni dikhai de riya" We were surprised, for these were his first words after his freedom. I explained to him that Dhabas were no longer good and that American style Fast shoppes were far better. And after a hearty meal he agreed with me. After some time I noticed that he had hung his revolver like a kirpan on the side. I immediately took it off and told him to keep it in the inner waist pocket but then I realised he was still wearing his Kurta and dhoti. So I immediately took him to colthing shop and bought jeans, pants, shirts, T-shirts and suits and got him to agree to wear the modern clothes and not the silly old dhoti-kurta.

That day was exceptionally hot and soon we were sweating as though we had excess of water in us. We stopped at Akbar Ally's (General store) to have some snacks and a drink. Bull was amazed at the huge clean and neat shop. We were served by waiters in uniform with cold drinks and ice-cream. Bull picked up the bottle but could not drink as the straw come in the way. I started giggling and told him to drink from the straw. He just laughed at himself and tried again. He put the straw in his mouth and tilted the bottle. I kept on giggling as I could not control myself. As nothing went into his mouth he just over turned the bottle and all the cola dropped on his face and new clothes. He was such a mess that I just burst out into a peal of laughter. Customers around us had also noticed his action and were also giggling to themselves. Ultimately I curbed my laughter and ordered another bottle for him. This time he managed to get it down his throat.

Slowly he learnt a lot through my help or from his mistakes. He turned out to be an advantage to us. But . . . he had learnt something else too. He had learnt to betray. He had become clever and used his wiles for his own advantage . . . He had adjusted well.

नेता नहीं चाहिए

आजादी की लड़ाई के दिनों में नेताओं की बहुत आवश्यकता थी। स्वतन्त्रता के उपरान्त पता लगा की अब तक भारत ने सिर्फ नेता ही पैदा किये हैं, नागरिक नहीं। अब नागरिकों की आवश्यकता महसूस हुई। नेता लोग भाषण तो देते हैं, परन्तु उस पर स्वयं अमल नहीं करते। वे स्वयं कुछ नहीं करते किन्तु जनता को उपदेश देते हैं। भारत में हर आदमी नेता बनना चाहता है। सभी नेता बन जायेंगे तो हम ऐसे नागरिक कहाँ से लायेंगे जो उनका अनुसरण कर सकें। हर क्षेत्र में नारा बुलन्द किया जाता है कि बच्चों को नेता बनाना है। सब नेता बन जायेंगे तों काम कौन करेगा? इस देश में चारों ओर नेता ही तैयार हो रहे हैं।

सब लोग समान हैं, इसका अर्थ लोगों ने गलत समझा है। वे समझते हैं कि प्रत्येक मनुष्य को बड़ा बनने का अधिकार है। इस कथन का सरल अर्थ यह है कि सबको विकास का अवसर दिया जायेगा। जिसकी जैसी प्रतिभा होगी वह उतना ही आगे बढ़ेगा। अवसर अचानक तो मिलता नहीं है। उसके लिए गुणों का विकास करना पड़ता है लोग समझते हैं कि वे नेतागिरी से आसानी से ऊपर पहुँच सकते हैं। वे समझते हैं, कि नीचे वालों को उपदेश देने में बड़ा मजा आता है। ख़ाओ-पिओ ऐश करो और सिर्फ भाषण दो। कभी-कभी समय से पूर्व नेता बनना हानिकारक होता है।

मेहनती और ईमानदार आदमी के लिए पद का मोह उतना नहीं होता। उसे अपने काम से प्यार होता है। फिर अधिकतर तो उसके पास भी कुछ न कुछ तो रहता है। दफ़्तर में उसी मनुष्य के हाथ में ज्यादा अधिकार होता है जो ज्यादा काम करता है। फिर नेता बनने से क्या लाभ है। असली सुख तो वह भोगता है जो नेता का सहायक होता है।

नेतागिरी का लोभ मनुष्य को अंधा और चरित्र-भ्रष्ट कर देता है। अनायास हर आदमी आगे बढ़ने की चेष्टा करता है। जो व्यापार में है, वे अनुचित तरीके से धन कमा कर आगे बढ़ जाना चाहते हैं। जो नौकरी में हैं, वे अपने ऊपर वाले अफसरों को ढकेल कर आगे बढ़ने को इच्छुक हैं। सामाजिक और राजनीतिक क्षेत्र में काम करने वाले बड़े नेताओं को हटाकर उनकी जगह बैठने को बेचैन हैं। प्रत्येक व्यक्ति बड़े से बड़ा पद चाहता है। छल, धोखा और झूठी कसमों से काम करने वाली जनता को लुभाने की चेष्टा की जाती है।

दूसरों को उपदेश देने से पहले नेताओं का कर्तव्य है कि वे अच्छी बातें पहले अपने जीवन में अपनायें और फिर लोगों को शिक्षा दें। जिन बुराइयों को समाज से निकालना है उनको त्याग दें। वे स्वयं एक आदर्श प्रस्तुत करें। समाज को स्वस्थ बनाने का यही सर्वोत्तम मार्ग है।

IN THE ARENA OF SPORTS

The first match the 'WELHAM BOYS' played was against 'KAILASH CLUB'. The conditions were conducive for football, and the game starting with a bang. Kailash Club going into a lead in the first 10 minutes. But Welhams fought gallantly in the dying minutes of the first half through Viresh, Ashish and Niran. Welhams had gained a slender lead of 2-1.

But the Kailash Club were always on top through some ineasured passing and exubuting some fine display of footwork.

Later the WELHAM got another bonus as they went ahead by another goal through Indervir. This was obviously a moral booster for the WELHAMITES. But the Kailash club then played excellently and were scoring at will in the last few minutes of the second half.

At that time Masroor scored a lovely goal through a left footer to bring the final score to some respectability. The next match was also scheduled to play against Kailash Club.

It was a similar story. WELHAMITES going up early in the first half, but Kailash Club reduced the margin and went into the lead at the final whistle, final score was 5-3.

Then Welham Boys practised hard for their forthcoming match against DOON SCHOOL. There was a lot of excitement among the boys. Again the match started with a bang. DOON SCHOOL going up as early as the sixth minute. The Welhamites toiled hard for their prize but were unable to score and were given a setback just before the interval.

In the second half there was a lot of struggle for the ball and the Welhamites reduced the margin through Rakesh Dewan. Welham Boys' played excellently in this match but just as it looked that the Welhamites have pulled back. There was a lapse in the deep defence of the WELHAM BOYS'. Three quick goals and the score 5-1 at the long whistle.

The next match was against SAMRAT CLUB. We started hopelessly and were 2-0 down. Only then did our boys find their rythem. They just outclassed then. Niran and Abhijeet Ghosh played extremely well and we won the match 5-3.

The Council football tournament just got underway. But both in the juniors and seniors we were knocked in the first round.

In seniors we lost to GURU NANAK 4-1. The lone goal being scored by Abhijeet Ghosh and in the juniors we lost 4-2.

INTERNATIONA NEWS :

IVAN LENDL of CZECHOSLOVAKIA defeated JOHN McENROE of the U.S.A. in three straight sets : 7-5, 6-3, 6-3. MANLIKOVA also of CZECHOSLOVAKIA defeated both the Tennis queens. CRIS EVERT LLOYD and MARTINA NAVRATILOVA.

In cricket India came from brink of defeate to save the first test, and similarly in the first one day international India saved a certain defeat. Thank to Dilip Vengserkar for his sparkling knoeck. Garry Kasparov of U.S.S.R. is in lead after two round against his arch rival A. Karpove.

West Germany retained the junior hockey tournament. India finished 5th. ICVIC SUGIARTO of Indonesia beat Morten Frost Hansen in a well contested final to win ALBA CUP. He beat Frost 15-10 8-15, 15-4.

THE FOOTLIGHTS ARE FLASHING AGAIN

... After a break of ten weeks (during which I'm sure the boys must've got nice and cultured on video films) We pull up our socks for another term with quiz contestes, debates, extempore speaking competitions, essay competitions and so on and so forth.

We'd like to express heartfelt regret for not having mentioned Ms. Banerjee's name alongwith the other members of the staff involved in the 'Tagore Jayanti' celebrations last term. She is thanked for putting up an excellent show.

Our school had the honour of having Dr. Salim Ali, a renowned ornithologist the world over, at our school, last term. Incidentally the very same day, an eminent butterfly observer and collector, Mr. Hutton gave a slide show about the aforementioned in the hall.

The first Saturday spent in school this term, was highlighted by the film show that evening-'Rush'. It was enjoyed by the Juniors albeit some seniors didn't approve of the choice. It was probably an anticlimax, considering the rumors that had got round, about being shown "Rambo".

The Juniors sat through a Rajasthani puppet show the Sunday before last. On the 5th of September, the students organised an entertainment programme, to commemorate Dr. Radha Krishnan's birthday (which is recognised as Teachers Day). Keeping in mind the short notice on which it was organised, the programme was a success. It is for the boys to speculate on the prospect of having a properly organised show, for the teachers in the years to come.

Pundit Ravi Shankar gave a concert in the I.M.A. Hall and a large number of boys, taking full advantage of the opportunity, went for it. The Doon School had organised the concert. I acknowledge the mistake made by me, with reference to the crossword clue given for the word "Bach", Sebastian was the second name of his, Johann being the first. This However did not keep Avinash Kumar and Amitabh Sinha from solving the crossword and winning the Rs. 5/- prize money.
